

active officer of this nation, you will probably never see it again.

To what lengths of desperation is the party driven! But a few months ago General Jackson made a Southern tour, at the invitation of his fellow citizens; and when this paper and some few others, warned the people that his presence and popularity amidst the throng of banqueting and popular intercourse would be made political use of, we were scouted at with affected indignation, that we so far forgot the hero's honor and magnanimity as to insinuate that he would take the least part in the political contest now going on; or suffer his more ardent friends to use his name or his person in connection in any way therewith. But the hand writing upon the wall was not then visible. The party did not then see and know that any thing and every thing must be resorted to, to keep alive a hope that the overwhelming current of public opinion and popular indignation could be resisted. The hope may yet flicker, but it is a vain—a forlorn hope. Flesh and blood was never put in the form of humanity that could successfully dictate to the American people. They will "DO THEIR OWN VOTING."

The avowed and notorious abolitionist to whom this strange letter is addressed, says in his paper, that the General has been "compelled" to this course by attempts to abuse the public mind as to his opinions. This fudge of an excuse is the weakness of imbecility and subterfuge. The letter bears upon its face the desire to force itself gratuitously upon the community. And it will be seen that it is as unwelcome as it is ill-timed and uncalled for.

The things contained in the letter will be noticed hereafter.

The Smithsonian Bequest

John Quincy Adams in a report recently made to the House of Representatives, as chairman of a select committee for that purpose, gives some very interesting and lengthy views in relation to this fund, together with some biographical notices of the donor as well as a general history of the subject down to the present time.

This is, certainly, a great and interesting subject; much more ample and extensive than it has been generally considered by most people, even those who have paid it special attention. It has generally been regarded as a donation of half a million for the purpose of education—to found a college or institution of learning in the United States, to be located at the city of Washington. But Mr. Adams takes a very different view of the subject. The terms of the bequest are, in the language of the testator, for the "increase and diffusion of knowledge among men." This seems to imply more than the education of children and youth, which does not increase the knowledge of men, but only communicates to the rising generation such knowledge as we are already possessed of.

Mr. Adams regards the United States as the mere executor or trustee of Mr. Smithsonian, for the benefit of mankind in general. And that accepting the trust, the Government is bound to appropriate the money as will best tend to the increase of human knowledge generally, and not use it for the benefit of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the city of Washington to educate their children.

He, therefore, recommends that, the principal sum should be permanent in the hands of the United States, and remain undiminished forever, the faith of the nation having already been pledged for its faithful preservation, and that the annual interest only should be used, and that in whatever way may be thought from time to time would best carry out the views of the testator. He recommends that $30,000 of the first years interest be appropriated to the establishing in the city of Washington of an astronomical observatory, to be conducted on a more liberal and extensive scale than any in the world. The whole fund first to be incorporated by Congress, and placed under the direction of a competent Board of Trustees.

If this plan is carried out, as it may, and ought to be, under this general arrangement, it will be seen, perhaps, after the lapse of many years that, Mr. James Smithson has proved himself one of the greatest benefactors to mankind that the world has ever produced.

For the People to know.

Extra Globe.—We learn from the Madisonian and other papers that, it is the intention of the administration to convert the Deputy Marshalls who are engaged in taking the census, into agents for the Extra Globe. This is a fine opportunity. Here is a government officer for every county and large town in the United States, whose business it is to visit every house; and if they are permitted to invade the private sanctuaries, each man an emissary from the Globe office, to pollute the land with falsehood, slander, intrigue and corruption, then this is a different kind of country and inhabited by a different kind of people than we have heretofore supposed.

In relation to the deputy for this country, we are glad to be able to state that no such meanness need be apprehended. He, we believe, is a gentleman, too decent to be made a tool of by any set of demagogues, or to prostitute his office for the good pleasure of any designing partizan. Let the people look to this matter.

"Two Sovereign States."—Louisiana and Mississippi have been a long time "in the courts of this country" at issue to determine whether certain persons should have the privilege of conducting vessels to and from sea through the mouth of the Mississippi. Wonder if there is to be a "war!"

Popular Enthusiasm.

We have now before us in our exchange papers, the details of five or six great gatherings of the people in favor of the political elevation of the Ohio Farmer. These are not town or county meetings of a few hundred, but immense gatherings of thousands and tens of thousands. Such popular enthusiasm was never known before. The people are beginning to think that the whole powers and energies of the country has been long enough exerted for the exclusive interests of the administration and the special benefit of the Federal Treasury; and that it is time that the interests of the people should be regarded and sought for.

The mountain is rolling—the people's rights and the people's interest call upon the people for aid and consideration, and as soon as self protection is a virtue, so soon will a mighty reformation pass upon the political destinies of this country.

Dr. Benjamin Harrison, son of Gen. Harrison, died at the residence of his father, at North Bend, on the 16th ult., in the 34th year of his age.

River Lands—High Water.

The present season will hereafter be referred to as one of "high water." The Mississippi and those rivers influenced by it, have indeed, been high—higher, perhaps, than has been known for many years, at least, since the memorable 1829. The crops on the Mississippi and Red rivers have in a great measure, been destroyed, while the plantations upon the Yazoo, have remained throughout the season, from 8 to 10 or 12 feet above the water; and during the months of April and May, the weather was peculiarly favorable to high water in this river, there being continued and very extensive rains here and towards its upper waters.

A Position of the Party Defined.

Dr. Duncan, of Ohio, is one of the leading and most prominent administration members of Congress. Not long since, in a speech, he used the following language. It breathes the true spirit of loco-focism, and is orthodox with all the leading officials of the party. Read it, free and independent citizens, and see how you like it, then say whether you are going to support the sentiment or not:

"The yelp of panic, ruin and distress, is now overspreading the land, and doing its base and dirty work of slander upon the character of our country. Where is the panic and distress to be found? Where it always will be found: among the PENNILESS LOAFERS OF YOUR COUNTRY."

"There is no pressure that any honest man ought to regret."

"All who trade upon borrowed capital ought to break."

"In six months specie will be common currency of the country."

"I leave this great nation prosperous and happy."

It is said that Gen. Harrison refuses to give his opinions, upon subjects of deep interest to his country. Now, however bright, is there a political question of the day upon which Mr. Van Buren has publicly exposed his views and Gen. Harrison has not?

Will somebody name it!

PRESIDENTIAL VOICE on the steamboat Ohio Belle, seventeen states represented: Deck and Cabin.—Harrison, 118—Van Buren, 25. Well, that's all right.

"And yet they come."

R. N. Wickliffe of Kentucky, a man who it is said, was once in the legislature of that state, and who could not soar as high in politics as he wished, has let go his half hold upon whig principles, and come out in the strongest, rankest terms for Van Buren and his Sub-Treasury. This, if it can be called a change, is, in good faith and verity, the only one in that direction which we have heard of many a long month. Every Van Buren paper we open, has Mr. W.'s letter headed "AND YET THEY COME!" as if more than one person had "come," within the memory of man.

Good Order and Decorum.

The following article is from the Sag Boat of the 24th of June. It shows what feeling is excited by the assemblage of Whig meetings. In this city, a few days ago, Van Buren orator, from one of the counties north of us, was complaining terribly of "these d—d Tippecanoe Clubs!"

People of Hinds county! Be it known that in an assemblage of orderly Whigs cannot meet in their own cabin to transact business at night without being assailed with horrid screams, firing of pistols and a shower of brick bats. We want all decent folks to know how some men act.

CANNONADING IN THE KEY-STONE STATE.—A small gun was lately heard from the town of York, Pa. Heretofore this place gave a strong majority for Van Buren, and now returns a majority of two hundred and forty for the people's candidate.

The "Alabama Argus," a leading loco foco paper has removed the Sub-Treasury motto from the head of its columns. What does that mean? What! Not afraid for the Sub concern to be seen, are you!

The "old coward" on the battle ground.

The township of Perryburg, in Ohio, where General Harrison ("the old coward") fought the battle of Fort Meigs, has elected the Harrison ticket by over three to one.

Isn't it strange that some men have such a love for "cowards" and "cowardice!"

The Charity Paper.

The Extra Globe sent out by Mr. Kendall on a charity expedition is overspreading the land with slander, deception and detection. The mails groan under it. Better put that immense mass of paper to some other use. And, you can't come it.

"In one year after Mr. Van Buren is sworn into office as president, gold and silver will be the common currency of the people."—Globe.

Certainly, because the administration was "increasing the circulation of specie."—Jackson commenced this "increase of specie" until he made the country "prosperous and happy" and Van Buren continues it. Don't you see how it increases!

HARRISON'S CONCEALMENT.

Let the People read it—Let the Slanderers read it—And all that will let them read it!

Pensioned proscs, hired office-holders and heated partisans have asserted, reasserted and heralded all over the country that Gen. Harrison had refused to endorse his letters and speeches against abolitionism. That he would not avow at this time the declarations he has formerly made on the subject. Well, sir, we can ease your pain on this subject, by giving you his opinions at a late period as the 23 of last month. Is that late enough? What objection will be got up next? Why we expect to hear it declared now from you all that since the 24 of June he may have turned abolitionist. Loco-foco misrepresentations seem to be very short lived of late.

North Exam, June 2d, 1840.

Gentlemen.—In answer to your inquiry "whether the letters and speeches which have been published in my name by my political friends, particularly those contained in a pamphlet lately published in Cincinnati by Col. C. S. Todd and Benj. Drake, Esq., contain the sentiments and opinions which I at present entertain, I repeat, what I have lately written to a committee of my friends in New York, that I should not consider myself an honest man to suffer these letters & speeches to be thus used without contradiction if any alteration had taken place in my opinions.

I am, very respectfully,
Your fellow-citizen,
W. H. HARRISON."

To Charles M. Truiston, Henry Pirle, G. W. Anderson, Louisville, Ky.

Alabama Convention.

A great whig convention was held on the 1st June at Tuscaloosa, Ala. The flag is flying in every direction.

Political Inquiry.

The whig presidential electors of Georgia have "pledged themselves to canvass the State thoroughly." How is it in Mississippi?

COME TO THE MARK—COME TO THE MARK!

Speak out you slanderers, or hereafter keep your silence. Read the following article from the Memphis Enquirer and then reply to it.

"We assert as a fact, and challenge a denial, that EVERY ABOLITION NEWS-PAPER IN THE UNITED STATES OPPOSES GENERAL HARRISON FOR THE PRESIDENCY, ON THE GROUND OF HIS BEING A FRIEND TO SLAVERY, AND A VIOLENT DENUNCIATOR OF THE ABOLITIONISTS. Will any one do us the favor to DENY this and adduce the proof!"

"Negroes are the only log cabin boys in State."—Balt. Spirit of Dem.

Well, we'd rather have the favorable opinion and respect of a genteel "negro" than such a contemptible slanderer as you are.

By Company!

A whole committee at once! The Tennessee Weekly Review, gives the following as the conclusion of an address of a whole committee of vigilance, at Belmont, Ohio, appointed by the power party, who decline any further connection with the party, and declare themselves henceforth in favor of Harrison, Reform and the People. Here they come, the whole company, not a man left.

"We can no longer support a party whose golden policy is to make the 'rich richer and the poor poorer' and whose professions for the dear people have been so long and loud, but whose practice proves to us that they love 'the leaves and fishes' more than the people's rights. For these, and similar reasons, we cannot support Martin Van Buren for the presidency, in the fall of 1840.

Wm. James, Dorson Finch,
James McFadden, John Bonifant,
James Mitchell, Wm. Brantall,
John Pollock, Middleton Harrison,
Thos. True, Eli Marlow,
David Roseborough, David Mercer."

Some of the loco-foco papers say that McLaughlin, the whig Marshal who was murdered at Baltimore in the procession, died of apoplexy. They know, or ought to know better, for the rascally, brawling loco-foco murderer has been arrested and now awaits his trial.

NEWLY DISCOVERED DEFAULTER.—General Harrison is said to be a defaulter to the government.

Do these pensioned slanderers lie by the job or are they hired for the season?

Patriotism reaching to the Skies.

The way they do things in Kentucky. Read the following from the Louisville Gazette of the 20th of June. Toll business going on these times:—

"On Saturday, the Tippecanoe Club raised their liberty pole, towering higher than any other in the far west. It is 150 feet high, and bears on its head the broad banner of 'HARRISON and TYLER,' above which floats a beautiful streamer. Notwithstanding the incessant rain, a brave tar ascended to the cross-trees and planted the topmast, and the cheers of the hundreds who thronged the street. The flag of the free and the liberal, is now waving the breeze—a perfect eye-sore to the heart-stricken Locofocoes."

The New Orleans Picayune never dabbles in politics, but the Tippecanoe current is rather strong for him. Hear him.

"We received a raft of Western papers yesterday, all filled with accounts of log cabin-raising, Tippecanoe victories, and fresh demonstrations in favor of General Harrison. If things keep on in this way we shall be compelled to sing out 'Tippecanoe and hard cider' in self-defence, for there appears to be nothing else thought or talked of."

Another Club.

The Whigs of the City of Natchez have formed a Tippecanoe Club, which is said to be the largest Club in the State. That is the way to do business; Let the whigs form Clubs in every town, and the State will go for Harrison and Tyler by at least three thousand majority. Mark the prediction.

Log Cabin Raising.

The whigs of Madison county raised a spacious Log Cabin at Canton, on Monday last, and we understand from a gentleman who was present, that it was one of the largest and most enthusiastic gatherings of the people ever witnessed in the State. There were about one thousand delegates from the different Clubs in this State in attendance. "Now by St. Paul, the work goes bravely on."

Yazoo City Tippecanoe Club.

At a meeting of the Club, held at the Club Room, on the 4th instant, the following resolutions were adopted.

On motion of J. A. Stevens, Resolved, That delegates be appointed by the club, to attend the South Western Convention, to be held at Nashville, Tenn., on the third Monday in August.

On motion, the chair was added to the committee.

Resolved, That we recommend that the contemplated convention for this purpose meet at Lincoln, on Saturday the 25th instant, at 11 o'clock, A. M.

On motion, the President was added to the said delegation.

Resolved, That the Secretary forward the present and the foregoing resolutions to the several Whig Clubs in the county, with a request that they respond to our recommendations, as to the time and place of holding said convention.

On motion, the following letter was read:

PROSPECTUS

OF THE FIFTH VOLUME OF

THE YAZOO WING.

We present this paper to the public with the view of extending the circulation of the WHIG of this city still further into the midst of the community in which we live, than our present subscription extends. The extension of political intelligence and truth—the spread of general and miscellaneous information—the support of public morality and the moral character of our state, and a laborious compensation to the proprietor and his family, make up the motives for this effort to extend our subscription list.

For seven long years we have, in this city lent an untiring exertion in behalf of the great cause of political truth and the welfare of our country. We have opposed the late and present administrations of the general government without hesitation and without compromise in all things where they have acted, in our opinion, for the benefit of a party, regardless of the good of the people.

And through the dark seasons of the country, within the last two years, when public wickedness seemed to flourish like a green tree—when the President seemed to be successful in carrying his party and his party measures in party triumph over the land "in spite of the lamentations of the people," we have not flinched in a single nerve or relaxed in a single effort in the battle of reform. But uniformly we have maintained the moral impossibility of the final success of a party, and consequent overthrow of the people, in a country like this. We have maintained an unwavering confidence in the patriotism of the people, that they, sooner or later, control their own interest and rid themselves of this immense unnecessary evil, that now so universally paralyzes the industry of the people of this great country.

We have endeavored faithfully to spread over the country all useful information, such as we, from time to time, have thought would interest and benefit our readers; and we have endeavored to protect the public morality and character of the State against foreign aggression and internal bickering and disquietude.

We present, as an earnest of the future, the pages of our journal which we have already published, and our promise that our industry and perseverance shall be at all times in requisition to make our paper as useful to the public as within our means.

Any person procuring subscribers shall be entitled to one copy for their exertion.

TERMS.—The Wing will be furnished to subscribers at Five Dollars in Advance.

It is further ordered that a copy of this order be inserted in the Yazoo City Whig, once a week for two months successively.
